What is The Multiple Sclerosis Solution?

The Multiple Sclerosis Solution is a program created by Jodi Knapp that aims to address the underlying causes of MS and provide a three-pronged approach to treating the condition. The program focuses on reducing inflammation, supplying the body with the energy and nutrients needed for repair, and making lifestyle changes to eliminate risk factors that contribute to MS.

How Does The Multiple Sclerosis Solution Work?

The program follows a series of phases that gradually address the factors contributing to MS:

Phase 1

In this phase, the program focuses on settling the immune system and reducing inflammation. It includes restoring gut health, which plays a significant role in regulating the immune system. The program also introduces dietary changes and supplements to provide the body with the necessary repair energy and nutrients.

Phase 2

This phase goes deeper into handling the immune system and inflammation. It involves identifying and removing domestic toxins that contribute to chronic inflammation. Additionally, gentle exercise movements and deep breathing are incorporated to improve circulation and deliver nutrients to damaged nerves.

Phase 3

By this phase, inflammation is significantly reduced, and the focus shifts to rebuilding the myelin sheaths that protect the nerves. The program includes additional supplements to support nerve repair and emphasizes a wider range of food choices to provide the necessary nutrients for rebuilding.
